

ShoBox Friday Night Fights

Written by News Article

Friday, 30 December 2005 19:00

Hot bantamweight prospect Raul "The Cobra" Martinez heads back to Chicago next Friday night as he is featured in the co-main event of SHOBOX "THE NEW GENERATION," an action packed evening of professional boxing presented by Dominic Pesoli's 8 Count Productions, 'HOME OF THE BEST IN CHICAGO BOXING, Kathy Duva's Main Events Inc., along with Miller Lite and TCF Bank.

The two-time national amateur champion sporting a perfect 12-0 record with 9 knockouts, six of which have come in the first round, will take on Colombian Andres "Andy Boy" Ledesma, 13-1 (8 KOs) in a scheduled eight round bout.

Speaking after a training session at his home gym in Georgetown, Texas, Martinez said, "I'm truly looking forward to returning to Chicago. The fans were terrific in September, they were very supportive from the start of the fight," an internationally televised first round knockout of Miguel Martinez on September 16th at the Aragon Ballroom.

Regarding his upcoming fight with Ledesma, "The Cobra" said, "I haven't seen him fight, although I understand he's fought at higher weights and will be naturally bigger than me. I've had great training for this fight and feel very confident. I really haven't left the gym in months, just taking off Sunday's and even then I get my running in. My thinking is that fights are won in the gym and complete preparation is the key."

When asked about his being mentioned by Dan Rafael, ESPN's boxing writer as one of the top prospect's in the boxing world the 23-year-old San Antonio native said, 'It's a great compliment, but I still have much work to do. I want to be a champion for Main Events like Fernando Vargas and Arturo Gatti. But like Fernando said while he was in town, 'be patient, work hard and your time will come.'"

Finishing the conversation, Martinez said, "I'm looking forward to starting out this year with a bang. I might have a couple less fights than the seven I had in 2005, but I'm looking to stepping up the competition, move up to ten-rounders and climb in the rankings."

Headlining the evening is a ten-round welterweight showdown between boxing's hottest prospect, unbeaten Joel Julio of Monteria, Columbia, and Ugandan native Roberto "The Doctor" Kanya. Julio, turning 21 years old the day before the fight, is 25-0 with 22 knockouts, twelve of which have come in the first two rounds. Kanya, now fighting out of West Palm Beach, Florida is 15-5 with four knockouts.

Tickets, starting at $30, are on sale in advance by calling 312-226-5800. Cicero Stadium is located at 1909 S. Laramie, at the corner of 19th and Laramie, just ten minutes south of the Eisenhower Expressway and ten minutes north of the Stevenson Expressway. Doors for this evening will open at 6pm with the first bell at 7pm.

ShoBox Friday Night Fights

Written by News Article

Friday, 30 December 2005 19:00

The full bout lineup for the evening is:

Joel Julio vs. Roberto Kanya, ten rounds, welterweights

Raul Martinez vs. Andres Ledesma, eight rounds, bantamweights

Miguel Hernandez vs. Butch Hajicek, eight rounds, middleweights

David Pareja vs. Derek Andrews, eight rounds, light heavyweights

Mike Gonzales vs. Tony Kinney, four rounds, lightweights

Omar Reyes vs. Luis Navarro, five rounds, featherweights

Reynaldo Reyes vs. Ricardo Swift, four rounds, middleweights