

Khan On Paulies Turf, Tours NYC With Freddie

Written by TSS Press
Monday, 10 May 2010 15:00

WBA Super Lightweight World Champion Amir Khan (Left) and his trainer Freddie Roach (Right) pose on May 10, 2010 in Brooklyn, New York near the Brooklyn Bridge while sightseeing in advance of his May 15, 2010 world title defense against former Super Lightweight World Champion Paulie Malignaggi at The Theater at Madison Square Garden in New York City which will be televised live on HBO's Boxing After Dark.

The Amir "King Khan vs. Paulie "Magic Man Malignaggi WBA Super Lightweight World Championship is presented by Golden Boy Promotions and DiBella Entertainment in association with Khan Promotions and sponsored by Cerveza Tecate. Khan vs. Malignaggi, along with Nate "The Galaxxy Warrior Campbell vs. "Vicious Victor Ortiz, the evening's co-featured bout which is presented in association with One Punch Promotions, will be televised live on HBO's Boxing After Dark in the United States beginning at 9:45 pm ET/PT (delayed on the West Coast). HBO will also show highlights of the Daniel "The Golden Child Jacobs vs.

Juan Astorga

bout. Tickets, priced at $555.00, $355.00, $255.00, $125.00 and $65.00, are on sale now and can be purchased at the Madison Square Garden box office, through Ticketmaster charge by phone and online at www.thegarden.com