

Aaron Lowinger is a freelance writer and social worker who fell in love with boxing in 2012 while viewing Gatti-Ward 1. He studied Linguistics and poetry at the University of Buffalo and has learned the elements and spirit of boxing in the basement of KC's Fitness. He lives in Buffalo with his wife and two children.