

HOLLIE DUNAWAY JOINS BOXINGCHANNEL.COM

COVERAGE OF DECEMBER 4th DONAIRE -SIDORENKO CARD

BoxingChannel.com will provide two full days of coverage of the December 4th Nonito Donaire-Volodymyr Sidorenko card, and introduce boxing champion and Penthouse model Hollie Dunaway as part of its coverage team. It can all be seen at www.boxingchannel.com.

Coverage will begin with the December 3rd weigh-in and also include full post-fight coverage. BoxingChannel.com executive producer and host Al Bernstein will anchor the coverage and be joined by Hollie Dunaway, a four-time world champion in womens boxing and a sought-after model and spokesperson who appeared in the June, 2010 issue of Penthouse.

We are delighted to have Hollie join our coverage team, she is emerging as a multi-media personality of the highest magnitude all around the world, as a model, spokesperson, television personality, and athlete, stated Al Bernstein. Bernstein added: The best part of all of this is that shes a skilled and clever boxer who really understands the sport and can communicate her knowledge very well. Thats what sets her apart. For more information on Hollie Dunaway go to: www.hotstuffhollie.com.

IN OTHER NEWS:

Dozens of world championship matches have now been rolled-out for free- viewing at www.boxingchannel.com. These include the great trilogy of Daniel Zaragoza vs. Paul Banke, labeled by most boxing experts as one of the most exciting and well fought trilogies in the history of the sport. Other champions in great matches include Oscar De La Hoya, Chiquita Gonzalez, Genaro Hernandez, Marco Antonio Barrera, Juan Manuel Marquez and Israel Vasquez.

These matches are just several of over 1200 fights that constitute the Forum Boxing Library. BoxingChannel.com has the exclusive rights to these matches and each week will be making more matches available on the channel for free viewing.