

Bradley Wants Fans To Pick His Next Fight

Written by The Sweet Science
Monday, 31 January 2011 23:38

REUNITED AND IT FEELS SO GOOD!

Timothy Bradley Once Again Unifies

WBO and WBC 140-Pound Titles

With Victory Over Devon Alexander!

PALM SPRINGS, CALIF. (January 31, 2011) – Amir Khan, Floyd Mayweather, Jr., Manny Pacquiao, Juan Manuel Marquez, the Klitschko brothers – line ‘em up -- undefeated 140-Pound World Champion

TIMOTHY “Desert Storm”
(27-0, 11 KOs),

BRADLEY

of Palm Springs, Calif., is ready to knock them off their pedestals. For the second time in his professional career Bradley unified the World Boxing Organization (WBO) and World Boxing Council (WBC) titles by beating the best. This time it was undefeated WBC super lightweight champion

Devo

n Alexander “The Great,”

(21-1, 13 KOs), of St. Louis, Saturday night in the Silverdome in Pontiac, Mich. Broadcast live by HBO, Bradley won a unanimous technical decision, in the first fight since 1987 to feature two undefeated American world champions colliding inside the ring with everything on the line.

The WBO calls him the world junior welterweight champion. The WBC calls him the world super lightweight champion and fans and media alike call him the king of the 140-pound division and a consensus Top-10 pound for pound fighter. Call him old fashioned but he believes the best should fight the best. Forget about tune-ups, those are for automobiles and lawn mowers. Let’s get it on, baby!

“I said throughout fight week and after the fight, I am done calling people out,” said Bradley. “I am the people’s champion and I want to hear from the fans on whom they would like me to fight next. They’re buying the tickets and the premium channel subscriptions. They’re entitled to have a say in this. Let my promoters know (Tweet @GaryShawBoxing and @thompsonboxing). Let HBO know (Tweet @hboboxing).”

Comment on this article

Isaiah says:

Tim Bradley should face Amir Khan next so there can be no dispute on just who the best 140 pounder in the world is. That’s all I have to say on this.

Bradley Wants Fans To Pick His Next Fight

Written by The Sweet Science
Monday, 31 January 2011 23:38

the Roast says:

I'm down with that. KHAN!!!!!!

brownsugar says:

Maidana,.. Maidana,.. and again Maidana!!!!