Burgos, now 23 years old, is ranked No. 4 by the World Boxing Council at 126 pounds. In his last fight on November 26 in Nagoya, Japan, he challenged Hozumi Hasegawa for the vacant WBC featherweight world title. Hasegawa, a former WBC bantamweight world champion with 10 successful title defenses, is considered by many to be one of Japan's best fighters of the last decade. It was a tremendous battle, one of the most exciting fights of the year – Burgos rallied $$ in the last four rounds and finished the fight strongly, but came up short ir the scoring and lost by 12 round decision.

Archuleta, 35 years old, is a 14-year professional veteran. A former WBC Latin American and North American Boxing Association featherweight champion, he has won two fights in a row.

In the co-featured bout - scheduled for 10 rounds in the super middleweight division - rising prospect Maxim Vlasov, 19-0 with 10 knockcouts, of Samara, Russia, will take on Isaac "Golden Boy" Chilemba

, 15-1-1 with 8 knockouts, of Johannesburg, South Africa.

Also scheduled:

4 Rounds, Heavyweights

Alex De Oliveira, 16-1, 12 KOs, Sao Paulo, Brazil, vs.
