The Japan Boxing Commission has established a specific bank account for donations to the Japan Relief Fund, which will be open until April 30, 2011.

The World Boxing Council has also created a bank account in the United States, and all donations received will be sent to the Japan Boxing Commission account.

Once again we invite all the boxing community to participate in this task to help our brother nation of Japan.

All the money will be delivered to the Red Cross in Japan by the Japan Boxing Commission on behalf of the world community of boxing.

How can you help the Japan Relief fund?

- Money donation to the WBC account, Japan Boxing Commission account, or to the Consulate or Embassy of Japan in your country.
