Manny Pacquiao, in a suit and tie, spoke to the press after his bout.

He said he was a bit bummed that Mosley didn't engage more. He was asked about the boos, and he said he heard them. He didn't throw Mosley under the bus, when asked if he was miffed that the vet didn't engage.

The Hilton sisters, Paris and Nicky, sat on the dais as the Congressman spoke. Paris said the fight was "amazing" and "incredible." Not sure if she actually stayed in her seat or was in the loo for most of it...

He was asked to rate his performance. "I can't rate it it right now, leave it to the people, people know I was trying to do my best to make them satisfied."

Freddie Roach said he thought Mosley "just tried to survive. When you get to that point, it's just time to call it a day."

The fighter said he'd leave it to Arum on who he will fight next.
