

Antonio Tarver joined Lamont Peterson and Andre Berto in the PED rabbit hole, testing positive for steroids following his June 2 draw against Lateef Kayode in California.

The 43-year old went to Twitter to term the flagged specimen as a "false positive." He was suspended for a year and stuck to his claim that he didn't cheat.