

New York, NY (4/4/13) - Earlier tonight, DiBella Entertainment presented the latest edition of its Broadway Boxing series, before yet another sold-out crowd at NYC's historic Roseland Ballroom. Headlining the stacked nine-bout card was comebacking former junior middleweight world champion and Brooklyn's own Yuri Forman.

In his second comeback fight, since returning to the ring following a long layoff, Foreman squared off against Gundrick King (18-10, 11KO's) in a six-round junior middleweight matchup. Foreman masterfully outboxed King over six rounds, en route to winning a unanimous decision. Scorecards read 60-54 across the board. King had no answer for the adept footwork and sly defense of Foreman, who continues his quest for another world title opportunity.

WBC #6-rated welterweight Ionut "Jo Jo" Dan Ion (31-2, 17KO's) impressively earned a unanimous decision over the game Damian Frias (19-7-1, 10KO's) in an eight-round welterweight showdown. Scorecards read 76-75, 78-73 twice. Southpaw Ion was aggressive and pounded the body throughout. Frias proved tough by taking a lot of punishment.

Foreman, Dan Ion, Del Valle, Bracero Win in NY

Written by The Sweet Science

Friday, 05 April 2013 08:12

---

Comment on this article