

PRESS RELEASE

FORMER TWO-DIVISION WORLD CHAMPION ZSOLT ERDEI WANTS THE BEST

CALLS OUT WARD

New York, NY (7/29/13) - Former light heavyweight and cruiserweight world champion Zsolt Erdei (33-1, 18KO's) isn't looking for any easy fights after suffering his first professional defeat in a razor-thin and questionable split decision loss to Denis Grachev in the first leg of the Monte-Carlo Million Dollar Super 4 Tournament. Erdei is instead offering up his services to super middleweight kingpin and ESPN.com's pound-for-pound number two-ranked fighter in the world, Andre Ward. Ward, who is coming off a shoulder injury and extensive rehab, hasn't fought since scoring a 10th-round TKO over Chad Dawson in September of last year. Erdei says he has no problem in moving down to super middleweight and would jump at the opportunity.

"When I decided to sign with Lou DiBella and fight in America, it was for me to face

Zsolt Erdei Wants To Fight Andre Ward

Written by The Sweet Science
Monday, 29 July 2013 15:56

