

Pacquiao In Saturday AM Car Accident, Is Fine, Fight Will Go On, TMZ Reports

Written by The Sweet Science
Saturday, 07 May 2011 16:08

Manny Pacquiao was involved in a very minor car accident late Saturday morning, the website TMZ is reporting. The boxer, who is slated to fight Shane Mosley at the MGM Grand this evening, was in car coming back from church, and another vehicle, belonging to his security crew, hit with Pacman's car. "It was a tap," an informed source told TSS, "on the Mandalay Bay property."

TMZ reports that Pacman is fine, is back at his hotel, and the show will go on this evening, as planned. The church service was held in one of the Mandalay Bay ballrooms. "No police were called, and there was no police report," our source told us. Freddy Roach said, "Manny is ready to go."

Comment on this article