Wow... I literally don't see where Mayweather found time to get back into fighting shape.... for Marquez floyd was gone 22 months and made it look like he retired like....the week before... but we knew even then by the media reports that floyd was visiting the GYM with a bagfull of gear 5 every day months before the Marquez fight... This time.. the flawless-one has been seen jetsetting around the world and sitting in the chief seats amongst the Dukes and Earls of Tinsel Town..Hobnobbing with Celebs and Music Moguls... announcing movie deals and such... How any of that prepares him for a fight of this magnitude totally mystifies me... I'll be watching with much interest....Floyd usually talks trash to hype a fight... but even within the hyperbole... he drops gems of truth if you read between the lines. Should be interesting. (he kept telling Shane "you Must make me respect you" over and over.... Shane listened and even though he had Mayweather ready to go...We still didn't see Mayweather toss any respect Shanes way)
