(10-0-1, 5 KO's), of Newport News, Va., in a battle of undefeated junior middleweights in a six-round scrap and

Manuel Robles

(1-0), of Los Angeles, tackles

Tim Ibarra

(2-1), of Denver, Colo., in a four-round junior featherweight bout.

OFF-TV WEIGHTS: Arnett 153 pounds, Wiggins 151; Robles 122 pounds, Ibarra 117³/₄.

What Castaneda said Thursday about his main event clash against Russell:

ROBERTO CASTANEDA

"This is definitely a great opportunity for me to fight a big name like Gary Russell on SHOWTIME. I'd been training for a different fighter, another southpaw with a similar style, for three months but when this offer came along I took it. I'm definitely in good shape and very excited.

"With the preparation I had, I definitely feel I'm capable of winning. Russell is a good fighter, very, very fast, so my plan is to not let him get into a rhythm and dictate the pace.

"I feel I hit hard enough and I know I throw enough punches. I expect to throw 100 punches a round.

“If I win this fight, I can be another Josesito Lopez and we all know what happened to him when he got his first big opportunity.”

Making weight is the least that those O-Game weaklings could've done. Oops! I musta fo'got! Hyped-up Gary Russell didn't fight in any of the O-Games because he couldn't make the weight, and passed out like a ____ ____ ____! Holla!
