LOS ANGELES (September 25, 2013) -- Hall of Fame promoter and Jenny Craig acolyte Bob Arum concluded his remarks at today's final

Julio César Chávez Jr. - Bryan Vera press conference at the Millennium Biltmore hotel with the proclamation, "Wait for the Weight!"

What would a Chávez Jr. fight week be without a concern about his official weight? It took up the majority of the questions during Tuesday's media conference call that he and Arum hosted.

The contract weight for Saturday's super middleweight rumble is a maximum of 168 pounds for the two fighters.

"Julio must be a Union man because he seems to be working for scale for this event," said amayseng says:

Me too the weight has been hiked all the way up to light-heavyweight status.(173lbs)
.....Junior might as well be fighting Travori Cloud...or Shumenov.... Can't blame Vera for taking the bait...I mean the fight.

I'm sure the Bob Father has sweetened the pot for Vera's sacrificial offering.

his head AND the deck is stacked against him. If Vera lands a big shot on Jr. he will get hit by a trunk dart from the rafters. This is all about Jr. We've seen this before. Vera gets a nice payday and Jr gets to feel good about himself. As Linda Ellerbee said, "And so it goes"

What happened to deepwater and Ali? I HATE when guys go missing...
