"I'm coming hard like I always do," said Diaz. "This year has been a great experience and I want to thank my promoter, Mario Yagobi and Boxing 360 for keeping me busy. Every time I step in the ring I'm getting better and better. My trainer Able Sanchez and I are working on new things for every fight. We want to be well rounded when I step up to the next level. Sanchez is a good fighter and I'm happy he took this fight, but I'm coming to knock him out."

Said Boxing 360 promoter Mario Yagobi, "Joel Diaz is a special fighter and brings a crowd pleasing style to the ring. I appreciated that he never turns down a fight and he's improving as he moves up in competition. I love his desire to be the best and I'm going to keep him busy for the rest of 2012."
