

Sadam Ali Wins in Brooklyn

Written by The Sweet Science
Sunday, 28 October 2012 10:38

BROOKLYN, NY (October 27, 2012) - 2008 U.S. Olympian Sadam "World Kid" Ali (16-0, 10 KOs) stopped Ronnie "The Natural Warrior, Jr. (13-8-1, 4 KOs) in the second round of Saturday night's main event at the Aviator Sports Complex in Brooklyn, New York

Sadam Ali Wins in Brooklyn

Written by The Sweet Science
Sunday, 28 October 2012 10:38

"Rising Olympian Star In The Big Apple," presented by Ali's World Kid Promotions, was distributed in the United States on pay-per-view by Integrated Sports Media.

Undefeated welterweight prospect Ali shined bright at home on a show that he also promoted. The well-rounded boxer took control in the opening round, dropped Warrior midway through the second with a short left, and finished him off with a perfectly thrown right at 2:59.

"I worked hard for this and I want to thank everybody for this opportunity," Ali said after the fight. "I hope I'm eligible to do more television events. I'm trying to get better opponents but sometimes fights fall out (Ali's original opponent Jermaine White was replaced by Warrior on two days notice). The better fighters cost a lot of money and I'm not in that position yet. I'm ready to step up.

"I want to keep my promotional company going, enhance my career and stay busy. I also want to help other fighters because I know how hard it is getting fights without a promoter."

In a non-title fight, WBC FECARBOX cruiserweight champion Santander "Cha-Cha" Silgado (23-0, 18 KOs) defeated Joell Godfrey (15-9-1, 6 KOs) for the second time in two months. Silgado won an eight-round decision over Godfrey this past August and repeated that outcome in the co-feature against his late replacement.

Colombia-native Silgado, now residing in Brooklyn, is rated No. 8 by the World Boxing Council (WBC) and No. 10 in the World Boxing Association (WBA). Godfrey has never been stopped in 25 professional fights.

Three-time Egyptian Olympian Ramadan "Holy Man" Yasser (8-0, 5 KOs) engaged in an old-fashioned brawl with Philadelphia cruiserweight Tim Johnson (4-2, 2 KOs). Yasser, who now lives in New York City, dropped Johnson in the first and fifth rounds en route to unanimous six-round decision to remain undefeated.

Sadam Ali Wins in Brooklyn

Written by The Sweet Science
Sunday, 28 October 2012 10:38

One-fisted Queens (NY) cruiserweight Michael Costantino, who was born without a right hand, won his pro debut by second-round technical knockout of Nathan Ortiz (0-3). Costantino hurt Ortiz with several strong lefts until Ortiz, turned his back, signaling his corner that he didn't want to continue fighting.

Manhattan light middleweight Stevie Gamache (4-0, 1 KO) kept his unbeaten record intact, taking all four rounds from a game Jose Angel Ortiz (4-11-1, 1 KO). Gamache is trained by his father, two-time, two-division world champion Joey Gamache.

Boxers in attendance supporting the show included Paulie Malignggi, Junior Jones, Luis Colazzo, Vinny Maddalone, Maureen Shea, Gary Stark, Gabriel Bracero and Will Rosinsky.

Brooklyn bantamweight Jennifer Santiago (2-0) pitched a shutout, winning all four rounds against Ivan "Boo Boo" Coleman (0-3). Light middleweight Shawn Cameron (3-0, 2 KOs) won a battle of previously unbeaten Brooklyn fighters with a four-round decision over Mamadou Doumbia (1-1).

Go online to www.SadamAliBoxing.com for more information about Sadam Ali or follow him on Twitter @realworldkidali.

Full Results:

(Winners listed first)

Cruiserweights

Santander Silgado (23-0, 18 KOs), Brooklyn, NY

Sadam Ali Wins in Brooklyn

Written by The Sweet Science
Sunday, 28 October 2012 10:38

WDEC8 (80-72, 79-72, 78-74)

Joell Godfrey (15-9-1, 6 KOs), East St. Louis, IL

Ramadan Yasser (8-0, 5 KOs), New York, NY

WDEC6 (59-53, 59-54, 58-54)

Tim Johnson (4-2, 2 KOs), Philadelphia, PA

Light Heavyweights

Michael Costantino (1-0, 1 KO), Queens, NY

WTKO2 (1:16)

Nathan Ortiz (0-3), Crystal River, FL

Light Middleweights

Steven Gamache (4-0, 1 KO), Manhattan, NY

WDEC4 (40-36, 40-36, 40-36)

Sadam Ali Wins in Brooklyn

Written by The Sweet Science
Sunday, 28 October 2012 10:38

Jose Angel Ortiz (4-11-1, 1 KO), Springfield, MA

Shawn Cameron (3-0, 2 KOs), Brooklyn, NY

WDEC4 (40-36, 40-36, 39-37)

Mamadou Doumbia (1-1), Brooklyn, NY

Welterweights

Sadam Ali (16-0, 10 KOs), Brooklyn, NY

WTKO2 (2:59)

Ronnie Warrior, Jr. (13-8-1, 4 KOs), Oklahoma City, OK

Female Bantamweights (4)

Jennifer Santiago (2-0), Brooklyn, NY

WDEC4 (40-36, 40-36, 40-36)

Sadam Ali Wins in Brooklyn

Written by The Sweet Science
Sunday, 28 October 2012 10:38

Ivana Coleman (0-3), Sidell, LA

Comment on this article

Radam G says:

WTF! Stealing a phrase from SCLA Ali: Sadam Ali "is full of syet!" His nickname may be "World Kid," but when it comes to stepping up and dancing with a live body, he's World Proverty Kid. The dude is not even fighting on-the-fringe contenders. Dude is going on five years of being a professional pugilist.

I heard of fighting somebody with a foot in the grave, but Sadam Ali is a corpse blowing away cremated cadavers.

WTF! Leave it to the game of the "threatre of the unexpected" to come up with some bizarre optical illusion jive like this. Hahaha! Holla!

Radam G says:

OOPS! I musta' fo'got! Now I get it. Sadam Ali and promotions were doing some pre-Halloween syet. OMFG! It worked on me. When I pictured a darn zombie corpse hanging out at a crematory blowing away cremated cadavers, it fudged me up. I started hollering for my Mommy G. She ran into the room, looked over my shoulder, saw what I posted, and said in Waray-Waray: "Shut yo' punk @$ up. That's what you get for spending so much time at TSS writing yo' O-P-P syet."

But y'all know me. I'm down with O-P-P. Hehe! Holla!

ali says:

[QUOTE=Radam G;21532]WTF! Stealing a phrase from SCLA Ali: Sadam Ali "is full of syet!" His nickname may be "World Kid," but when it comes to stepping up and dancing with a live body, he's World Proverty Kid. The dude is not even fighting on-the-fringe contenders. Dude is going on five years of being a professional pugilist.

I heard of fighting somebody with a foot in the grave, but Sadam Ali is a corpse blowing away cremated cadavers.

WTF! Leave it to the game of the "threatre of the unexpected" to come up with some bizarre optical illusion jive like this. Hahaha! Holla![/QUOTE]

It's rare that I agree with everything u say in a post but not this time your on point triple O.G

ali says:

Sadam Ali Wins in Brooklyn

Written by The Sweet Science
Sunday, 28 October 2012 10:38

I must say it's great that he's taking his career in his own hands. But if your going to have s ppv event u have to fight somebody creditable not a fcking bum.

deepwater says:

His business plan is Ruining his boxing career.fighting bum after is bum is doing nothing o improve Ali . After paying fighters ,taxes ,renting venue ect . How much $ is there from live gate and a joke ppv. No way did 500 people buy it. The aviator is not convenient like MSG,Barclays,midtown manhattan .if he doesn't step it up and fight a live guy I see a waste of career .

ali says:

[QUOTE=deepwater;21540]His business plan is Ruining his boxing career.fighting bum after is bum is doing nothing o improve Ali . After paying fighters ,taxes ,renting venue ect . How much $ is there from live gate and a joke ppv. No way did 500 people buy it. The aviator is not convenient like MSG,Barclays,midtown manhattan .if he doesn't step it up and fight a live guy I see a waste of career .[/QUOTE]

Great points