Middleweight "Comanche Boy" George Tahdooahnippah (32-1-2) bounced back with a 4th round knock out victory over veteran Marteze Logan, on Friday, January 24th at the Chevrolet Bricktown Center in Oklahoma City, OK. In a scheduled six round bout, action was one sided, with Tahdooahnippah controlling the pace from the bell with a heavy accumulation of body shots. In round four, Tahdooahnippah connected with a left hook to the body that sent Logan down for the count. "I was happy with my performance, but know that I have more work ahead of me as I battle my way to title contention. I will not rest. I am back in the gym on Monday and ready for my next move from my team," said Tahdooahnippah. The professional boxing card was brought to you by HD Boxing.
