

I liked the video when Woodsy says he looked deeply into Margarito's impenetrable eyes and still couldn't decide if he was guilty or innocent of wearing tampered gloves. That's because there's nothing in there.... The spirit that inhabits the husk known as Margarito is just a pure sadist with an overzealous discipline to train. Like Jason Vorhees he'll stalk Cotto thru the abyss of hell non-stop so he can administer a more frightful beating than the last.
