

"He Went Back To The Old Cotto"

Tuesday, 06 December 2011 10:03

I'm surprised by Cotto's conditioning, it looked as good as I've ever seen him. He had enough gas in the tank for 12 rounds if needed.

Revenge is a great motivator but will Cotto keep on performing like this again or was that it? He went back to the old Cotto, the one before round 6 of the first fight with Margarito. I was glad to see Cotto show his true self in that ring. I hope he does it again. ---TSS reader Maromero was impressed with Cotto's energy in the Dec. 3 rematch with Margarito, wonders if he will be as effective next time without the revenge angle
